

Privacy Statement for the Dublin Gospel Partnership's "Dublin Women's Convention".

In seeking to comply with GDPR, our privacy policy is as follows:

- .. Your name and e-mail address is only held for the purposes of informing you about our annual Dublin Women's Convention. We will not contact you for any other reason or pass your details on to a third party.
- .. Your name and e-mail address is stored in our gmail account and associated Google Drive files, which are password protected and only accessible by some committee members.
- .. Anyone who registers for our convention is added to our mailing list so that you will be informed of future conventions. For new convention registrants, it will be possible to select to not be added to the mailing list. Please e-mail dublinwomensconvention@gmail.com at any time if you wish to be removed from this mailing list.
- .. Your name and e-mail address will be treated as confidential and only used among committee members for the purposes of planning the convention (such as for seminar location planning or lunch requirements).
